The last film before Christmas will be "Swimming With Men" which should be fun. The film includes a cast of fine British comedy actors. So if you've not tried the revamped Brockhampton Community Cinema yet - Thurs 13th is the date.

Berit Hagen & guests concert at Village Hall on Friday 14th will be a rare treat. Hope as well as the "Bel Canto" we hear a bit of the "Commander-in-Chief".

I'm certain you've everything ready for Christmas so have a good one and we'll all make it to January's film, "Mamma Mia, Here We Go Again".

Items for the next Issue (Feb/Mar 2019) by 20th January Please.

Take Care of That Dog

There have been a few contretemps between dog owners/walkers and those they share the countryside with. There are allegations that an occasional off-lead dog has been aggressive to well-behaved pooches, perfect owners and very hardy hikers.

There have even been a couple of cross-allegations - impossible to sort out who was to blame.

The important thing is that the law always blames the dog and is fierce about letting dogs be "dangerously out of control" to the extent that if someone is frightened that a dog might attack them - even unreasonably - whether in public or private places, you can be prosecuted and your dog might pay the heaviest price.

Most local dogs are soppy but can act fierce so for their sake keep them safely under your control.

Should the Police Commissioner run the Fire Service?

Gloucestershire's Police and Crime Commissioner Martin Surl is launching a public consultation over who should govern Gloucestershire's Fire and Rescue Service. At the heart of the consultation is whether the county council is the right body to supervise the organisation and is this the right change?

The move is being opposed by the County Council.

For details of the consultation copy this link into the address bar of your browser.

The 2018 Show: A Fun Way to raise £1880 for local causes.

The Show with its Caribbean overtones was a fine day with the profits slightly up on 2017. The Tea Tent was as popular as ever. Popular too was the bar and the BBQ. The side shows also enjoyed success. Sadly, there continue to be fewer entries in the various arts, crafts and gardening categories particularly from the early teen residents.

Apart from the fun of the day, the Show serves the community by supporting local good causes and projects. If you have information on a local cause needing support please contact the chairman, Charles Arkell (01242 820581) as soon as possible so that you can furnish him with full details before 22nd January when the committee will be considering requests and allocating funds.

 Cotswold Careline celebrates 30 years of providing its 24 hour emergency monitoring service. The service is aimed primarily at helping the elderly to continue independent living. For further information or to arrange a home visit from a member of their team phone 01594 810000 or email cotswoldcareline@fdean.gov.uk.

Thanks to everyone who supported The Engine Open Day at Manor Farm. A total of £717 was raised which will go to Kate's Home Nursing (kateshomenursing.org)
